Spheres are huge rubber "Radomes," and helicopter shown is used to transfer supplies and personnel. A massive air-sea search turned up wreckage but no sign of the 28 military and civilian technicians aboard.

'No Further Sign Of Life'

Tappings Cease In Topped Tower

By HAROLD McCLURE

NEW YORK (AP)—Salvage workers reported today that there was "no further sign of life" from the sunken wreckage of a radar tower which collapsed in the sea Sunday night.

Salvage rescue operations were resumed at 6:30 a.m. At 8:20 a.m. the Coast Guard here was notified there was nothing more to indicate anyone might be alive in the underwater debris.

Navy Gives Top Peacetime Award To Rickover

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The Navy gave its top peacetime award today to Vice Adm. H. G. Rickover today in an unstinting tribute to atomic ships and the man who helped give them birth.

Secretary of the Navy William B. Franke pinned the Distinguished Service Medal to Rickover on behalf of President Eisenhower.

It was Rickover, said Franke, who was "largely responsible for making the dream of nuclear power for ships come true."

The ceremony for the dynamic white-haired little admiral came six years to the day that the first atomic submarine, the Nautilus, moved on nuclear power.

And the place was the same: at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., where the Nautilus was built. The medal was presented aboard the Nautilus.

The world's first nuclear submarine was on hand to supply power for the ceremonial keel laying on the 34th atomic submarine of the United States, the Lafayette.

And in a sense the ceremonies also were a tribute to the Nautilus and her sister ships. The Lafayette will be the 10th of the missile-firing submarines and lead ship of a "third generation" of the rocket boats.

These will be bigger than the present ones and able to fire rockets of 1,500-mile range instead of the current 1,200-mile range.

Franke ticked off what has happened in these past six years.

"We now have at sea 16 nuclear-powered submarines; 27 others are under construction or have been authorized, for a grand total of 43," he said.

"We have had to replace nuclear cores in only two submarines in the entire six year period."

He apparently referred to the Nautilus and the second atomic submarine, the Seawolf, in which a new type of reactor was installed.

Tappings resembling the work of humans had been heard from below the surface Monday, giving rise to hope that some of the 28 men aboard the tower might have survived in an airtight compartment.

A sea search of the area was abandoned and rescuers concentrated on salvage and diving operations at the tower site, 70 miles southeast of New York City.

The so-called Texas Tower was wrecked by high winds and stormy seas. One body has since been recovered and another sighted but lost.

Rescue operations had been dramatically spurred Monday when enigmatic tappings and a sound which was likened to a human voice were heard coming from the tower.

Then the tappings faded, stopped — and were not heard again.

"A realistic view," said the Coast Guard, "must be that the men in the tower are no longer alive."

During the chill black night, a flotilla of salvage and search vessels hovered near the spot where the tower stood guard as part of the Air Force's early warning system.

While searchlights and flares played eerily over the scene, teams of divers plunged into the 48-degree seas in attempts to reach the main quarters of the tower's ship-like hull.

Officers believe the tower was in an upright position, more than 50 feet below the surface. Luminous objects, believed radar domes, were spotted by a diver Monday.

Despite underwater lights, the divers found the going rough as murky water, stirred by the same storm that wrecked the tower Sunday night, lowered visibility and hampered operations.

Two of the tower's three legs were discovered still standing — but bent over as if by some giant hand. One was 10 feet and the other 25 feet below the surface.

These legs will be sheared off by divers to permit a salvage boat carrying a diving bell and divers near to move into position.

Repulse Rebels In Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo. (AP)—Swedish U.N. troops fought off hundreds of rebel Baluba tribesmen who made three attacks on a train the Swedes were escorting in central Katanga Province.

A U.N. spokesman said the Swedes inflicted "heavy casualties" on the Balubas but that no Swedes were hurt.

The Swedish troops were escorting a train traveling south from the coal mining town of Luena, about 300 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Balubas had attacked the same train over the weekend, wounding three Swedes.

The spokesman said the train was first attacked today. A few miles outside Luena, about 100 Balubas armed with old guns and bows and arrows.

"The Swedes repulsed the rebels," he continued, "but the train then reached part of the rail track which the tribesmen had torn up. As the train backed up to return to Luena, about 400 more Balubas appeared and made another attack."

"The Swedes opened fire and the Balubas retreated. There were about 60 Swedish troops on board the train."

"The train was about 500 yards from Luena station when the Balubas launched a third attack which the Swedes drove off, inflicting many casualties. The troops are presently dug in around Luena station and a helicopter is due to leave from Kamina base about 100 miles from Luena with fresh ammunition and other supplies."

U.S., Canada Make Development Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker today signed a treaty for joint U.S.-Canadian development of the Columbia River resources. They hailed it as a milestone in international relations.

The pact is to run for at least 60 years and contemplates billions of dollars of construction.

Eisenhower and Diefenbaker signed the pact in a White House ceremony.

Beaming as he affixed his signature, the President said it is "indeed a great personal gratification" for him to be able to sign this treaty in the last few days of his White House tenure.

Diefenbaker told the President the relationship "between our two countries is a model for all mankind."

The ceremony was attended by a host of representatives of the two governments and several senators.

Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hoped the treaty would receive Senate action in a month or two. Before going into effect, it must be approved by that body.

Mansfield expressed confidence that the treaty would be ratified. The treaty is a culmination of some 10 years of work toward reaching an agreement that would apportion the benefits and costs of Columbia River basin development equitably and satisfactorily.

Under it, the United States has the option to build Libby Dam on the Kootenai River in northern Montana within five years after ratification. Libby was authorized by Congress in 1957.

It would back water 42 miles into Canada, and the treaty provides that Canada acquire the lands needed for this. Each nation would retain all benefits in its own territory which accrue from Libby.

Canada would build three dams on its side of the border providing more than 15 million acre-feet of storage. The three projects would be at Arrow Lake, Mica Creek and Duncan Lake.

They would be built at Canadian expense, but the United States would pay for flood control benefits as the structures are completed.

Elmer F. Bennett, undersecretary of interior, who was a member of the United States negotiating team, said it would cost some $710 million for the United States to provide similar water storage in the next 10 years. Under the treaty, including $323 million for the cost of Libby Dam, the total expense will add up to $433 million in 10 years for such storage.

Canada's cost for its development is set at $462 million.

Bennett pointed out that the United States has some $3.5 billion invested in water projects on the Columbia River. A major feature of the treaty, he said, is protection for 60 years against Canadian diversion of the Columbia River on its side of the border.

"Considering our Columbia investment, this protection becomes very important indeed," Bennett said.

The negotiators agreed on a compact of at least 60 years aimed at cooperatively developing the basin of the Columbia River for the benefit of millions of people on both sides of the border.

The river, which flows into the Pacific between Washington and Oregon, has a drainage area of 219,500 square miles in northwestern America and 39,500 square miles in British Columbia.

Rumors spread over the city Monday night that a new demonstration was planned for Monday night. The campus was quiet, however, and officials hoped that disciplinary measures against those identified with last week's disorder would restore normal conditions.

A few cots carrying small satellite or overnight bags were seen leaving Myers dormitory Monday night. Miss Hunter is housed in that building. Dormitory sources said the girls are planning to stay with friends in sorority houses or homes in the city until excitement over the presence of Miss Hunter ends.

IC TRAIN IN FIERY CRASH

Murder Trial Of St. Louis Crime Reporter Opens

HERMAN, Mo. (AP) — The prosecution contended in its opening statement at the first degree murder trial of St. Louis Post-Dispatch crime reporter Theodore C. (Ted) Link it would prove that Link was guilty of premeditated murder.

The defense, in cross-examination of a key witness, made an apparent attempt to show that the victim had a violent nature.

Link, 35, is being tried for the slaying of Clarence W. Calvin, 35, farmhand and part-time handyman at Link's summer home near St. Albans, Mo., the scene of the July 11 slaying.

Calvin was killed with two 12 gauge shotgun blasts and three bullets from a .38 caliber revolver. The defense is expected to maintain Link shot Calvin in self defense when the handyman advanced on the reporter, armed with a knife and a three-pronged hoe, during an argument in which Link accused the victim of burning down the summer home.

The prosecution has subpoenaed 22 witnesses, including the only eyewitness to the slaying, Link's 12-year-old son, Theodore C. Link Jr.

The defense has stated it plans to call about 30 witnesses.

Charles Hansen, Franklin County, Mo., prosecuting attorney at the time of the slaying, outlined the state's case Monday. He said the evidence would show that Calvin "was shot at least once while he was lying on the ground."

The defense, headed by St. Louis attorney Henry Morris, reserved its opening plea until later.

The trial is being heard before Circuit Judge Joseph Tate in Gasconade County on a change of venue.

It moved quickly the opening day with an all-male jury being selected in four hours. The sheriff's testimony was during a night session.

Illinois Colleges Expect 30,000 Enrollment Hike

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois' public and private colleges can expect a total enrollment increase of 30,000 students during the 1960-61 school year, according to a Teachers College Board official.

Dr. Richard G. Browne of Springfield, addressing the board Monday, said the estimated additional facilities would be equivalent to another University of Illinois, two universities the size of Northwestern, and 39 the size of Millikin.

Browne, executive director of the board, said these figures represent the space problems facing Illinois schools.

The board directed architects to proceed with final drawings of a proposed $3.2 million field house for Illinois Normal University.

The project, on the west campus, will seat 4,734 persons at a basketball game, have an indoor track, swimming pool and two gymnasiums. The roof of one outside wall will overhang half of the seating space for a future stadium.

A press box atop the wall will overlook both the stadium and the fieldhouse. Stadium seats against the wall will accommodate 6,972.

The project is to be financed with $2.4 million in state funds and $875,000 to be raised through bonds.

The board revised its policy on post season football competition, lifting its ban on play after the regular season was finished.

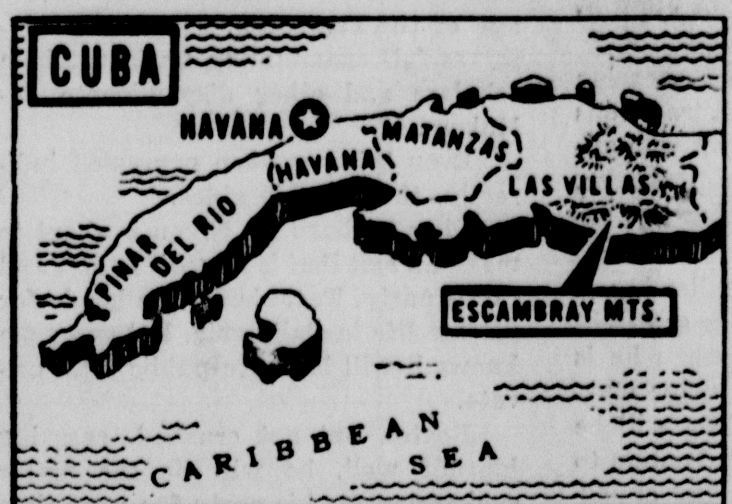

The board agreed to abide by the regulations of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference to which schools under the board's control belong. The conference has no ban on bowl games played prior to the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

HALT THREATENED SALE OF BRIDGE
EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A court order has stopped threatened sale of the $11 million McKinley Bridge over the Mississippi River for $13,500 in delinquent taxes.

Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark, acting at the request of the city of Venice, owner of the bridge, issued a temporary injunction Monday against the scheduled sale.

The judge directed Madison County Treasurer Dan W. McGee from acting against the bridge until further notice.

Venice claims the property is exempt from taxes since it is municipally owned.

REPORT CUBAN BATTLE—Newsmag shows location of rebel stronghold in the Escambray Mountains of Cuba's Las Villas Province. A government force of 30,000 men, believed personally led by Premier Fidel Castro, was reported battling heavily armed rebels in the mountains to keep the force of some 4,000 insurgents from cutting the island in half. Castro reportedly was making an all-out effort to crush the rebel force led by Maj. Evilio Duque.

Silence Veils Moves Against Cuban Rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime maintained a curtain of silence today around military operations against rebels in central Cuba's mountains. But it announced execution of three more "terrorists" in Havana and openly purged opposition in labor unions.

The executions, which raised the unofficial total to 580 since Castro took power, were the first since the prime minister announced those responsible for recent bombings and sabotage would be dealt with most severely.

Shot early today in Havana's La Cabana fortress were Juan Mesa Lopez and Julio Llovera Suarez, accused of "counterrevolutionary and terrorist activities," and Balbino Emilio Diaz, charged with attempting to kill pro-Castro radio commentator Jose Pardo Liava last fall. Llovera Suarez also was accused of spying for the U.S. government.

They had been convicted less than 12 hours earlier. La Cabana was jammed with an undisclosed number of prisoners awaiting trial for anti-Castro activities.

On the heels of a warning to the Bus Drivers Union to close ranks behind Castro's revolution, the Labor Ministry dismissed 360 employees of the recently nationalized Cuban Electric Co. No official reason was given but the workers said they were fired for being unpatriotic and potentially dangerous to loyal workers.

The dismissed workers demonstrated briefly Monday before company headquarters. They are members of the Electrical Workers Union, hundreds of whose members marched on the presidential palace last December in protest against Communist attempts to take over the union. Union leaders were purged immediately. A wave of sabotage against electric lines followed.

Officials would give no reports on the progress of the offensive in the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas Province. Castro's office denied he was directing the military operation and termed absurd a report that as many as 30,000 government troops were trying to round up 4,000 rebels.

The younger children told Charles P. Hill, Indianapolis fire prevention chief: "We saw mother spreading something on the floor and asked her what she was doing. She told us she was 'pouring it to kill the mice and rats. The next thing we knew everything was on fire."

He began a long newspaper career with the Green Bay Press-Gazette. Rule U.I. Can Acquire Land In Garfield Park
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Supreme Court held today that the University of Illinois can acquire approximately 40 acres of land in Garfield Park for a Chicago campus.

The decision, involving two cases, reversed the Cook County Circuit Court which ruled the Chicago Park District did not have authority to turn over the land.

The lower court held that the land was dedicated by a trust deed for use for park purposes only, and enjoined the park district from conveying the proposed site to the university.

However, the Supreme Court said park land is subject to eminent domain and can be condemned.

One of the cases was filed by former State's Atty. Benjamin Adomowski of Cook County and the other by three taxpayers who own land opposite Garfield Park.

Passenger Cars Bound For Chicago

Fear 7 Dead, 6 Hurt In Explosion

MAGNOLIA, Miss. (AP)—The crack passenger train City of New Orleans rammed a butane gas truck at a downtown crossing in Magnolia early today, with first reports indicating seven persons killed and six others injured.

"Reports are very vague," the Illinois Central office in New Orleans said, "but we do know the truck exploded when the train and truck collided."

IC authorities said the train's engineer, S. E. (Jimmy) Livingston, and its fireman, W. P. Collins, were both killed, along with the truck driver, who was not identified. Livingston and Collins, the IC said, were from McComb, Miss.

Another of the dead was a white man, Bobby Gwin, who had been working at the boxcars. The other dead man was a Negro laborer in the train yard.

The truck was reported one belonging to Standard Oil Co., and officers said driver Morris Pligott of Holmesville, near McComb, was presumed dead although his body was not found immediately.

The body of Collins was found some 200 yards from the point of impact.

Think Fire Fatal To Three May Have Been Set
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Coroner Dennis J. Nicholas was trying to determine today whether a fire that killed three persons was an accident or was started deliberately because of an eviction notice.

The toll in the flash fire that swept through a family home last Wednesday rose to three Monday with the deaths of Hubert B. McCleaky Jr., 44, and his son, Hubert, 10.

McCleaky's wife, Sarah, 42, died Sunday of burns suffered in the fire. Another child, Gall, 13, was still in critical condition today and Elaine, 11, was reported in serious condition.

The younger children told Charles P. Hill, Indianapolis fire prevention chief: "We saw mother spreading something on the floor and asked her what she was doing. She told us she was 'pouring it to kill the mice and rats. The next thing we knew everything was on fire."

The McCleekys had been ordered out of the house because of arrears in mortgage payments, and a deputy sheriff said Mrs. McCleaky had told him they would be out by Wednesday morning.

In Religion, Money, Interests—

Kennedy's Cabinet Shows Great Variety

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet is distinguished by its diversity.

It contains wealthy men and those of humble origin. It has seven Protestants, two Jews and one Catholic. Kennedy's brother, John F. Kennedy Jr., is drawn from the world of business, of scholarship and of government.

Some of the Cabinet members are longtime political associates of the president-elect. Others he knew only by reputation.

All of them will make $25,000 a year as Cabinet officers; for some it is quite a pay cut.

Sketches of Members
Here are sketches of the 10 men in the Kennedy Cabinet:

Secretary of State—Dean Rusk, 51, was president of the Rockefeller Foundation. Born on a farm in Georgia's Cherokee County, he won a Phi Beta Kappa key at Davidson College, then a Rhodes scholarship, became dean of faculty at Mills College at 25. Entered the State Department after World War II, rose to assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, was a chief architect of U.S. Far Eastern policy. Joined Rockefeller Foundation in 1952. Married, three children. Presbyterian.

Secretary of Treasury—Douglas Dillon, 51, a wealthy man who believes in hard work. A Republican, moved over to Kennedy Cabinet from position as undersecretary of state for President Eisenhower. Banking family background, was chairman of the board of Dillon, Read & Co., Wall Street bankers, while still in his 30s. Has always advocated large-scale foreign economic aid. He was ambassador to France early in the Eisenhower administration, and moved up in the State Department to become a top policy maker. He is an accomplished linguist, ardent art lover and gourmet, owns one of the finest vineyards in France. Married, two children. Episcopalian.

Editorial Comment

Measure Of Character

As Vice President Richard M. Nixon prepares to return to private life for the first time since he entered the Navy in World War II, a comment on his postelection performance seems warranted.

It has been of a high order, in the view of most men in both major political parties and many disinterested observers.

Typical was his gracious, generous and dignified behavior as Senate presiding officer when he had the somewhat delicate task of formally declaring the presidential victory of John F. Kennedy—and his own defeat.

His brief speech on that occasion was so thoroughly in the best traditions of the democratic spirit that it won applause from Speaker Sam Rayburn, who rarely applauds anything in Congress.

Nixon also has been following a planned policy of leaving the spotlight to Kennedy in these days when he is getting his administration under way. He reasons sensibly that there will be time enough for Republican leaders to speak out, when they have had opportunity to weigh Kennedy's performance in the White House.

It is interesting to set Nixon's recent behavior against some of the forecasts that were made. Remembering that he had known nothing but victory, some observers predicted that in defeat he would "fall apart." They saw him as a "hollow man" who would turn bitter and vindictive.

He has confounded these appraisers. A few might say he has been helped by the fact he lost so narrowly, but that conceivably could have added to bitterness.

Nixon's only real pique has been reserved for some members of the press, whom he accuses of bias against him and in favor of Kennedy in the coverage of the campaign. The charge deserves full examination by journalistic scholars and other dispassionate on-lookers.

Even this has been expressed indirectly, through his aides.

Thus Richard M. Nixon is about to make an exit that is a credit to him and to his party. Technically, he heads for private life in California. But everyone knows it will be more public than private.

Beaten but not crushed, carrying himself well, he will be the major spokesman for his party for some time to come. If things break properly for him, he could easily be his party's presidential standard bearer again in 1964.

Chance At A Miracle

President Charles de Gaulle unquestionably is now embarking upon what must inevitably be the most critical days of his entire career as leader of France.

Algeria, everyone understands, is France's toughest problem. The referendum De Gaulle has won on the issue does not solve it in any degree. It is simply a mandate to him to continue trying to solve it.

De Gaulle won the mandate partly because he made it a clear test of his leadership. Most Frenchmen grasped the fact that they have no really effective alternative to the austere general. They were not prepared to rebuff him.

They appreciate, too, that they cannot stand still on the Algerian issue. They may not like the direction in which De Gaulle proposes to move—toward a strong measure of Algerian self-determination—but they know they cannot live forever with the terrible economic and military drain Algeria now represents.

How it will be ended is still the great puzzle. The Algerian rebels, despite De Gaulle's many sincere overtures, have not yet come to the bargaining table. The bloodshed goes on.

Tens of thousands of less violent Moslems in Algeria declined to take part in the big referendum. No one knows to what extent, if any, they will now participate in the various Algerian assemblies which must be formed if self-determination is to become the reality De Gaulle seeks.

On the other side, it is thoroughly plain that the Europeans in Algeria, not to mention strong elements in the French army, are still substantially opposed to any solution which gives the Algerian Moslems the inevitable ascendancy their numbers warrant.

In virtually every approach he has made to the Algerian problem, De Gaulle has proved himself pre-eminently the statesman. But to crack this major dilemma seems to require nothing less than the powers of a miracle maker.

A large share of the population in France and Algeria have given De Gaulle the additional opportunity he demanded to attempt the miracle.

Corrective Measure

Some good may come out of one aftermath of the tragic fire aboard the carrier Constellation in Brooklyn. The Navy has ordered the trial use of chemically treated, fire-resistant planks for scaffoldings. The great amount of wood aboard the ship had been cited as an important contributing factor in the spread of the blaze. The Brooklyn Navy Yard will be the first shipyard in the country to try the fire-resistant wood.

Shelley Berman Has Quit Hitch-Hiking—He's In The Money Now

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — This is the land that pays for laughs.
In 1961 Shelley Berman will gross about three quarters of a million dollars — several times President John F. Kennedy's take-home pay — for being funny.
A very few years ago Shelley and his wife, Sarah, a former actress, hitchhiked across the continent looking for work.
Today Berman, a Navy veteran, is one of the darlings of the sophisticates. He has been paid $15,400 for a one-night stand. He has been paid $12,500 for a seven-minute appearance on television. It all wound up with Berman being one of the highest-paid comedy performers of his generation.

Before he hit the big time with his very portrayals of civilized man adjusting to the problems of civilization, Shelley worked as a cab driver, a speech teacher, a drug clerk, a ballroom dancing instructor, and a free-lance writer.
What has success meant to him after a dozen years of failure which he still remembers as "the jinx time?"
"There are a lot of superficial differences," he said. "You eat better and you wear better clothes, but the big difference is that I now have a wholesome self-respect."
"I foundered for a long time and envied people around me who had found what they wanted to do and were content."
"And now I am. Well, anyway I am more content with my life. I am doing something."
Shelley's humor is based on the ordinary man's plight in this extraordinary time. He jokes about taking an airplane flight, beatniks, the problems of parenthood. His only props in his "concert" appearances are a high stool, a pack of cigarettes and a lighter.
In one show he lights about five cigarettes, really smokes only two — but feels completely dependent on them.
"Without those cigarettes, I might as well not come out," he said. "The cigarette is my escape

U.N. Will Pose Problems For Kennedy Administration

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — As the Kennedy administration prepares to take over, it begins to appear that new policies must be adopted for dealing with—if not solving—some of its more pressing problems in the United Nations.

The idea is growing that the United States can't do everything alone. It must rely increasingly on the world organization.

The General Assembly is in recess until March. This gives administration time to get its house in order. But problems in Cuba, Laos, Congo and elsewhere will come before the Security Council, demanding immediate attention.

THIS PROSPECT COMES AT A TIME when the very existence of the U.N. itself seems threatened. The General Assembly record from last September through December was not too reassuring.

The Security Council was frequently immobilized. The secretary general was under attack. The Soviet Union in effect extended its veto power into the General Assembly.

Costs of maintaining peace forces in the Congo—which the Russians refuse to share—are greater than the rest of the U.N. budget. So the organization faces bankruptcy.

The first 15 years of United States participation in the U.N. may be considered something of a honeymoon. In this period the United States never cast a veto and never lost a vote.

But the West is losing its majority in the U.N. to the new countries in Asia and Africa. The showdown may come soon, if the United States turns up on the losing side of a vote.

There may be some public clamor then for us to pull out of the U.N. But that is irrational if the U.N. is considered essential to establish world order.

Since it has been found impossible to amend the U.N. charter, the hope for the United States lies in being able to influence the attitudes of the uncommitted and neutral nations. This may call for new strategy and tactics.

THE IDEA OF CARRYING ON THE COLD WAR in the U.N. may have to be suspended. The new nations want no part of it. What they are interested in is improving their own internal conditions.

The U.N. offers opportunities for the approach of helping its member states.

The problem of President Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador to the U.N. Adlai Stevenson is to restore the image of the United States as a tower of strength and the hope of the future.

"I believe it is important to say what you think," he said. "I don't believe in taking the soft, sweet, safe route."

"I despise comedians who mock tragedy and who insult religion and human infirmity."

ANTI AMPLIFIERS
NEW YORK (AP) — George Abbott, veteran Broadway stage manager, scores an increased use of amplifying equipment in legitimate theaters.

"If they can't hear 'em, get a new company," is the Abbott slogan concerning audience ability to hear performers.

In "Fiorella," Abbott permits use of microphone in one scene—only because the action takes place in a broadcasting station.

BAPTISTS AND KENNEDY
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Nine annual state Southern Baptist meetings, held since the presidential election, have voiced prayerful support for President-elect John F. Kennedy. Such resolutions were passed by conventions in Kansas, California, Georgia, North Carolina, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Ohio and the District of Columbia.

"I knew what was required if I wanted to continue in my profession. All I had to do was drop the two required names in the basket, and I would have been permitted to work. I didn't choose to. I thought it degrading, and a man has to live with himself."

Corey made his choice and drew the expected results. His agent told him it would have been useless to apply for movie jobs. Corey has a wife and three children.

"I appeared before the committee on a Friday," he said. "On Monday, I enrolled as a freshman at UCLA. I attended the university for 4½ years, including graduate work to qualify as a speech therapist."

"How did I support my family? I worked as a manual laborer on a construction project. Then I started coaching dramatic students. I was quite surprised by the results. Today I am conducting 10 classes a week with as many as 20 students in a class, and there is a long waiting list."

He also coaches privately. Some of his students include Academy Award winners and nominees, big names in the movie world.

Corey made no move to get back into films until his agent told him he was up for "The Untouchables." His return without incident and now he hopes other roles will follow. He shows no bitterness about his experience.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Keeping his balance while in motion will be as much of a task for President-elect John F. Kennedy as anything facing him these next four years.

For him standing still would be equivalent to failure. He has to move. He promised it in the campaign.

In trying to get things done, Kennedy will encounter a thousand frustrations. The test of his balance will come in how well he avoids letting his judgment get twisted by exasperation and impatience.

He will learn the agonizing difference between 14 years in Congress and four in the White House.

In Congress his was not a position of leadership, even though he had both a state and national responsibility. Most of the programs he singled out for particular praise or blame.

In trying to persuade other members of the House or Senate to his way of thinking, he had the luxury of knowing that any failure on his part had to be shared by those on his side at the moment.

He will not have that luxury any more. His now is the primary responsibility for seeing that his promised programs get through Congress or are approved by allies and, sometimes, by enemies.

He will be asked to make decisions just as were his immediate predecessors: Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

Roosevelt had almost subservient support from Congress in the crisis days of the early New Deal. He began to lose it as the sense of emergency got lost in the sense of recovery in the late 1930s.

Truman had firm support in the closing days of the war but after that practically nothing but cat and dog fights with Congress.

Eisenhower, working for most of his eight years with a Congress run by Democrats, got a lot of his programs through but endured a lot of disappointments.

Roosevelt, frustrated and exasperated by opposition in Congress, went to the extreme of trying to purge fellow Democrats and enlarge the Supreme Court.

The fiery Truman was truly exasperated and showed it—by the roadblocks thrown up by Republicans, particularly the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. His pitched battles with them were famous and often unproductive.

Eisenhower, the opposite of Truman, remained calm, friendly and non-personal with Congress. But there were times when he probably could have accomplished more if he had fought harder.

With these examples before him, Kennedy knows the great trick in a successful presidency is in somehow creating a minimum of personal antagonism while fighting for and getting what he wants.

Can he do it? He has been unusually well-balanced so far. But his troubles haven't begun.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently Jeff Corey acted in an "Untouchables" film, playing a drug addict with a knack for making bootleg booze.

It was a good role, though not a showy one. What made his performance news was that it was the first film acting he had done in exactly 10 years. It marked his return from the shadowy exile of film personages who refused to answer questions about Communist connections before a congressional committee.

Corey's most famous role was as the psychiatrist in "Home of the Brave." He acted in 60 other movies and says he was the busiest actor in Hollywood during the late 1940s. Then he was mentioned in hearing testimony as having attended certain meetings.

He was called before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Los Angeles hearings. He took the Fifth Amendment.

"To most of us who were called to appear, the questions were historical," he says now. "If I thought security was involved, I would have answered freely. But it wasn't."

Claims for Germ Killers Are Not All-Embracing

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Unhappy consequences may result from a false sense of security, arising from unwarranted claims made in behalf of germ killers.

To take the simple example, let us assume that you rinsed your mouth, gargled or sprayed your nose with a germicide. Let us also accept the unlikely proposition that, by your action, you completely sterilized the treated area. Yet, within an hour or so at the very most, examination of the recently sterilized area would surely reveal a bacterial population that differed little, if at all, from that which was present before the germicide was applied.

If this observation were not correct, doctors and nurses would not have to put on sterile rubber gloves after they'd completed a 10-minute surgical scrub of their hands.

Take another example. Let us assume that you've cut your finger and poured a germicide into the wound. If you used a concentrated solution, you'd be apt to give yourself a chemical burn and thus provide the bacterial invaders with a rich supply of dead tissue on which they could feed, grow fat and multiply.

If you used a weaker concentration, that would be further diluted by the blood and tissue fluids that continue to ooze out of the cut surfaces, you might kill some bacteria but the survivors would soon make up for these losses by reproducing new generations every 20 minutes or so.

What then, you may ask, is the meaning of tests that show complete absence of bacterial growth in glass test tubes or plates after they've been treated with germicide?

They have very little meaning. I'm afraid. You see there are bacteria and bacteria, just as there are various kinds of animals.

Some of the bacteria that live on our skin surfaces and in our body cavities do us neither harm nor good. They are called commensals which means literally that we dine with them at the same table (mensa: table).

With other bacterial species we have mutual assistance pacts. These allies are called symbions which means that the survival of each of us is dependent, to a degree, on the survival of the other. The myriads of colon bacilli, for example, that live in our intestinal tracts perform important functions for us. Indeed, we would have difficulty surviving without them.

When we kill them off, as we occasionally must before an intestinal operation, we're apt to get our selves into very serious difficulties. They, on the other hand, cannot continue to exist unless we continue to exist.

Finally there are the really villainous bacteria or pathogens. Many pathogens are easily destroyed in test tubes which is much like breaking clay pigeons in a shooting gallery. Killing them in the human body is more like stalking wild animals in the jungle and having to shoot them while they're charging.

Killing commensals and symbions, whether in test tube or in the body is like going hunting and coming home with a string of pussy cats while tigers and lions continue to roam in the woods back of the house.

Scientists must do better than that if we're going to wipe out the common cold, epidemics of influenza, poliomyelitis and other infections.

New President of the United States Enjoys a Good Hamburger

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Our new president is a man who enjoys a good hamburger. We understand, also, he enjoys wine, both in cooking and served occasionally with his meals. Therefore, we suggest he add to the White House pantry library an excellent new book by Emily Chase of California called, "The Pleasures of Cooking with Wine" (Prentice Hall—$4.95).

For the White House menus we recommend these two recipes from "The Pleasures of Cooking with Wine":

Best Hamburgers (Serves 4)
1 pound ground beef
¼ cup dry red table wine
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Hamburger buns or toast
Mix beef, wine, parsley, onion, salt, and pepper. Shape lightly into four nice patties. Broil or saute in butter or bacon drippings until as desired. Serve between halves of buttered, toasted hamburger buns, or on toast, with whatever relishes you like.

Surprise Burgers (Serves 6)
1 pound ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1 small clove garlic, chopped or put through garlic press
¼ green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons bacon drippings or butter
2 tablespoons flour
One-third cup dry red table wine
One-third cup catsup

Committee Studies Plans For Another City Parking Lot

Jacksonville may acquire and develop a fourth off-street parking lot, Alderman Clarence Souza, chairman of a special committee, informed the city council last night.

The announcement came after Alderman Hocking asked if the special committee is making progress in the possibilities of a site.

Alderman Souza, who with Aldermen Scott and Mathews negotiated the purchase and directed development of the West Court parking area, said investigation has revealed that one site which was considered adequate is unavailable, but that two or three other areas are being studied.

It is understood that should another parking area be developed, the committee members would favor a location south of the business district. Other municipal lots are on North and South Main streets and West Court street.

One hundred and sixty metered spaces are available at the three existing municipal lots.

Off-Street Receipts Climb

Chief of Police Charles P. Runkel said in his annual report to the council that parking meter revenue was down somewhat in 1959, which he attributed in part to heavy snows in February and March when motorists could not get near the curb. He said the meters on the streets produced slightly smaller amounts in other months, but that revenue of the off-street parking lots was higher.

Chief Runkel presented each alderman with a detailed statistical report of his department for the past year. He said that bicycle theft is one of the growing problems, although a large number were recovered. Chief Runkel stated that the department is working on a plan for registration of all bicycles as a means of preventing thefts and aiding in identification of wheels.

Rev. Walter Pruett, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, was guest minister at the regular Monday night council session and offered invocation.

Seek Franchise Renewal

Mayor DuBois read a communication from the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., asking renewal of its franchise. On motions by Aldermen Belzer and DeFratres, action on the request was deferred pending study by the city attorney.

Attorney Thomas C. Rose served as acting city attorney in the absence of Attorney William T. Wilson.

A report of Treasurer Ilma B. Cline showed a balance of $8,323.67 in the general fund at the end of the past month.

Alderman Scott of the building committee said the floor in one room of the police station needs replacement. The committee will receive estimates and report to the council.

A request that committee chairman start work on the budget was made by Alderman Mathews of the finance committee.

Firemen Continue Search

Reporting for the fire committee, Alderman Johnson said a crew from the fire department made another strenuous search last Sunday for the bodies of three Jacksonville men who perished several weeks ago in the Mississippi river near Clarksville, Mo. Several traces of the dam were closed for two and one-half hours by the lock tender, in effort to find further traces of the men or their boat, half of which was already salvaged.

The council voted on motions by Aldermen Belzer and Scott to buy a quantity of copper wire from the Nehring Electrical Co., for $692.31.

Open Warehouse Bids

This was "bid opening night" for a new warehouse and truck garage at the municipal light plant; also for a truck and radio equipment for the truck to be used by the light department.

Acting City Attorney Rose read the following bids:

For the warehouse, Hugh Gibson $16,395, with an $830 alternate if steel beams are used; Olen Gottschall & Son, $16,995 and an alternate of $480; Alhorn Building, Inc., $18,376.

Bids were referred to the light committee for evaluation, on motions by Aldermen Mathews and DeFratres.

Bids for furnishing a three-quarter ton truck were: John Ellis Chevrolet Co., Chevrolet chassis and cab, $1,293.21 and 1956 truck to be received on trade-in; Curdy Ford Sales, $1,180 and allowance of $998 on old truck; Allied Motors, $1,465 for GMC and $973 on old truck; Byers Brothers, $1,368 for International and $1,060 for old truck.

Bids were received from McCabe-Powers, St. Louis, and Drake-Seruggs for truck bodies and several types of aerial and hydraulic ladders.

To Buy Truck Radio

All bids were referred to the committee after motions by Aldermen Mathews and Burchett.

A bid was received from the Motorola Co., for a low band mobile unit to be used in connection with the light department service truck. This proposal of $842.75, with a $175 allowance for the old radio, was referred to the committee on motion of Alderman Johnson, seconded by Alderman Schulz.

Alderman Lemon presented the renewal of a lease of the boat dock concession at Lake Jacksonville to Gene Graves for $125 for one year, which was approved on motions by Aldermen Scott and Belzer.

The acting city attorney gave second and final reading to the primary election ordinance, which was adopted after motions by Aldermen Grojean and Belzer. The primary election is Feb. 28.

Financial Report
Mr. Fogel reported the cooperative had a total sales of $612,064.86 for the year and that the net worth of the company is $231,000 at present, an increase of about $25,000 over last year.

Re-elected to the board of directors for the Service Co. were George Krusa, Verne H. Smith, Lloyd Wallis, Ralph Brown, Robert Worrell, and Clarence Dynes. At the close of the meeting patronage was distributed in the amount of $27,548 plus stock dividends of $6,156 thus making a total of $33,704 paid back to the Farm Bureau patrons of the county this past year.

Virgil Vortman, Scott County Farm Bureau president, presented the "40th Annual Year in Review" report and welcomed the large crowd present. He stated the company had a year in the black with a net income for 1960. The office personnel was introduced by Mr. Vortman: Mrs. Rex Worrell, bookkeeper and extension secretary; Mrs. Robert A. Brown, Farm Bureau and insurance secretary; and Mrs. Olin Clark, soil testing technician.

Retiring President
President Vortman was presented with a gift of a cuckoo clock following his announcement as retiring president of the Farm Bureau. The gift was presented by the Farm Bureau Board, Scott County Service Company, James Henderson and Dale Hewitt.

Dr. Dale Buz, director of economic research for the Illinois Farm Supply Company, was the principal speaker of the afternoon session. He reviewed the agricultural statistics of Scott County, noting the decrease in farms and farm population which he later pointed out the trend of importance was not less in agriculture but of much greater magnitude. The reason for this is that the greater number of people are involved in processing, merchandising and handling of agricultural products even though today one farmer feeds twenty-four people. Over forty per cent of the national population rely on agriculture for an income even though farmers make up only 7 to 9 per cent of the total population.

Attendance Awards
Attendance awards were given throughout the day, as follows: Electric fry pan, Mrs. Elmer Becker; ham, LaVern Jones; ham, William R. Boston; merchandise certificate for $5, A. J. Scott Couple To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

WINCHESTER — Mr. and Mrs. George Cowick of West Cherry Street in Winchester will quietly observe the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday, Jan. 18, at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowick, the former Miss Mildred Woodall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodall of this city, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Beardstown, Ill., by Rev. A. C. Palmer at 4:00 p.m. on Jan. 18, 1911. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. David Cowick.

They are the parents of two children, Mrs. Margaret Chennault of Lexington, Ky., and one son, Richard, now deceased. They have six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Honored With Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. James Edmondson of near Winchester were honored with a dinner Sunday at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merriman, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Those present at the dinner Sunday were Mrs. Elsie Thomas, Mrs. B. F. Webster, Miss Henrietta Hainsfurther, Milton Edmondson, the honored guests, and the host family.

Forum Hears Of Travel
The annual re-organization meeting of Chapter No. 6 of the Research Forum in Scott County was held in the dining room of the First Baptist church Sunday evening, Jan. 15. Rev. Oscar Grindheim, newly elected chairman, was host to the members and their wives. The 23 present enjoyed a dinner served by Mrs. Grindheim and daughters.

Dale Hewitt, retiring chairman, called the meeting to order and, as usual, those of 20 years ago were heard. In January, 1941, Judge L. Allan Watt had been installed as the new chairman and Paul H. Lehman presented the paper of the evening on "The Gold Standard of Today."

Mr. Hewitt installed the new officers for the coming year which included Rev. Grindheim as chairman, Dr. Bruno Schroetter as vice chairman, and Fritz Haskell as secretary. In reminiscing of Chapter No. 6 it was noted that it has been in existence since September of 1932 and during that time has participated in 315 meetings. Some form of an original program was heard at each meet, generally a paper read on some interesting topic with the papers ranging from a few hundred words each to a few thousand. It was noted that even at only 2,000 words it would almost be equal to the number of words in the Bible but would never attract that much attention. One of the outstanding experiences in the life of the chapter that was noted was the harmony among the 50 different persons who, at some time, had participated as members.

Following Rev. Grindheim's interesting inaugural address, interlarded with much humor, arrangements were made for a number of future meetings including the February meet at the Rockwood home.

The host for the evening, Rev. Grindheim, also presented the paper for the program on the subject of "Seeing the United States." The members were given a first hand review of the sights and scenes in many states, from California to Washington, D. C. from Wisconsin into the deep South, everywhere finding the country of vast interest. The paper proved to be a very interesting review of our country so far removed from the reader's former homeland and birthplace of Norway.

Much discussion was heard at the conclusion of the paper since the Forum group is well filled with extensive travelers.

Persons
Mrs. Corrine Lashmet of Jacksonville and Mrs. Bessie Andell were visitors last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rumble returned to their home here after spending the last several weeks with their daughter and family in California.

REALITY IS CHANGE

DES MOINES (AP)—Declaring that some people fear change and new ideas, regard "modern life as degenerate" and want "things the way they used to be," Methodist Bishop F. Gerald Ensley said at a church meeting here.

"This desire to keep things just as they are is futile. There is no way you can prevent life from changing. . . . God does not resist change. . . . God initiates it. Far from approving reaction, God actually punishes those who won't change."

Say Russ Plans Dramatic Space Shot For Kennedy Inauguration

May Try First Man In Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Soviet missile-tracking ships have to in the Pacific Monday amid signs the Russians may be preparing a spectacular space shot as a pointed inauguration salute to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

The radar-packed vessels, watched by U. S. planes and ships, were reported "dead in the sea," stationed in a loose triangle about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii.

The Soviet ships took up an apparently predetermined position amid mounting belief Soviet scientists would follow up a mystery rocket test Friday night, perhaps with an attempt to put a man into space.

The Defense Department alerted all radar-detection outposts to be ready to monitor what appeared to U. S. experts to be an imminent Soviet missile space test.

The location of the three Soviet missile ships was reported to be some 200 miles short of the 44,800-square-mile target area the Soviet Union staked out last year for long-range missile test shots.

The ships' new position led to some belief their role was to track a satellite shot rather than to check the accuracy of any Soviet missile fired into the usual target zone.

Any new Soviet space spectacular would fit in with the current campaign of flexing the Soviet military muscles while talking hopefully about prospects of agreement with the Kennedy administration.

TO MARRY HUSBAND

MARLBOROUGH, England (AP)—Joan Chambers, 32, said Monday she has agreed to marry the father of her five children.

The Chambers have been more or less married since 1944 when Joan lied about her age and went through a ceremony with Cliff Chambers, then 21.

This wedding was not legal because Joan was under age. Recently Joan decided Cliff was no bargain and had the marriage annulled on the ground she was too young to know her own mind at the time. Cliff has now rewed her and rewon her.

Kennedy Names Seaborg New AEC Head, Prepares Address

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Glenn T. Seaborg, chancellor of the University of California and Nobel prize winner in chemistry, was named chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission Monday.

President-elect John F. Kennedy chose the scientist to succeed a Republican businessman, John A. McCone. The AEC chairman not only has major responsibility for the direction of the U. S. atomic program but is deeply involved in the quest for workable international controls over nuclear weapons of mass destruction.

The appointment came toward the end of a busy day, during which Kennedy entertained Billy Graham, Baptist evangelist, at the Kennedy family house on the ocean.

Seaborg, 48, whose appointment fills one of the last remaining vacancies among major posts in the new administration, was understood to have the strong backing of Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the Senate - House Atomic Energy Committee.

Seaborg is a Democrat, and with his appointment the commission will consist of two members of each major party, with one vacancy still to be filled.

The appointment also restores a scientist to the commission, under the tradition established several years ago. There has been no scientific member since John H. Williams resigned in May.

Seaborg, a native of Ishpeming, Mich., attended the University of California at Los Angeles and obtained his doctorate from the University of California at Berkeley. He is a codiscoverer of plutonium, the man-made element which powers many atomic weapons, and of other elements brought to light by the nuclear age. He shared the 1951 Nobel chemistry prize and won the $50,000 Enrico Fermi award in 1959.

Seaborg lives in Lafayette, Calif., with his wife, formerly Helen Griggs of Sioux City, Iowa, and their six children.

Kennedy devoted the next-to-last day of his pre-inaugural Florida visit to work and exercise. The work included approval of several appointments below Cabinet level and more drafting and polishing of the speech he will deliver after being sworn in as president Friday on the Capitol steps in Washington.

Pope John Names Four Cardinals, Pleads For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII created four cardinals and issued a fresh plea for world peace Monday in a Vatican ritual unofficially called the American Consistory.

"A prayerful message of peace is what we wish to address to the whole world on the threshold of this new year," the Pope said.

Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis became one of the new Princes of the Roman Catholic Church.

The others are Archbishop Jose Humberto Quintero of Caracas, Venezuela; Luis Concha Cordoba of Bogota, Colombia; and Giuseppe Ferretto, Italian assessor of the Vatican's Consistorial Congregation, an expert on problems of the church in Latin America.

Pope John announced their elevation to the College of Cardinals at a secret consistory in the Vatican Palace's Consistorial Hall attended by only 29 old cardinals—mostly members of the Vatican Curia.

All four new cardinals waited elsewhere for the official notifications, the biglietti, borne by papal messengers.

Cardinal Ritter received his at the Pontifical North American College, in an improvised throne room made homelike with the presence of dozens of friends and relatives.

LICENSES BEHIND 1960 SALE
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Sale of 1961 Illinois motor vehicle license plates is running about 70,000 behind last year's rate, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said Monday.

At the close of business last week, a total of about 1,820 '00 had been sold.

Motorists have only a little more than two weeks left before mailing applications to insure having their plates by the Feb. 15 display deadline, Carpenter said.

LISTEN TO WLDS

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The budget that President Eisenhower submitted to Congress Monday opens up a guessing game rather than setting a final guide for taxpayers and business.

The guesses are implied in both the spending and income sides of the ledger.

In spending there's always the question of what Congress will finally do with any presidential budget. Added this time is the uncertainty of the task force reports to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

If all their suggestions were adopted spending would rise well above the $80.9 billion the outgoing President calls necessary, and which itself is 1 billion more than in the current fiscal year.

In receipts, his estimate of $82.3 billion will be obtained only if the current business slide is reversed so that tax collections will swell, and only if Congress votes higher gas taxes and increased postal rates.

So the budget leaves business and the taxpayer about where they were—that is, guessing how much the Kennedy administration will want to spend, how much Congress will approve, and how far the business slackness is likely to go and when a recovery can be expected.

The taxpayer, and that includes both individuals and business, is concerned in what happens to the budget because ultimately the bills have to be met. And if the Treasury doesn't achieve the $1.5-billion surplus that President Eisenhower hopes for, but runs up a deficit instead, both individuals and business could be under revived inflationary pressures.

Business is further concerned because just how much the government spends and for what it puts out its money vitally affect many companies and whole industries. Eventually this widens out to take in most of the economy.

Studying the proposed budget, business notes that only two items call for less spending in fiscal 1962 than in the current fiscal year. These are interest on the public debt, down because interest rates are down, not because of any drop in the total debt; and for commerce, housing and space technology.

Everything else is up. Defense spending is up $1.5 billion, but this was expected. So was the increase in outlay for veterans services and benefits. President Eisenhower wants more for foreign aid than Congress voted for this fiscal year.

Purely civilian projects that are asking more money for the next fiscal year are labor and welfare, agriculture and agricultural resources, natural resources, and general government costs.

Some projects don't come under the regular budget at all. These are the sums collected and spent for such endeavors as Social Security, jobless payments and superhighways.

Adding these, the total cash to be spent in fiscal 1962 becomes $101.8 billion, or $1.9 billion more than this year. And the total money expected to be collected from the public becomes $103.1 billion, or $4.1 billion more than this year.

These are figures that business studies, since they furnish a better idea of how much government will withdraw from the public's pockets and just how much could be available sooner or later to business either in government orders, or in cash in the pockets of those who get salaries, or payment from the government.

High Court Rules Damage Suit Must Be Tried

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court made it a little easier Monday for business firms to bring treble damage suits under the antitrust laws on allegations of unfair competition.

This was done through a unanimous decision holding that there need not be a showing of general injury to the public at large to sustain such suits. The decision reversed lower court rulings.

The high court's opinion was not signed.

It reinstated a treble damages suit by Radiant Burners Inc., a gas furnace maker, charging the American Gas Association and others with conspiring to control the sale of gas appliances.

Federal courts in Chicago had dismissed the suit.

Radiant charged in the suit that association seals of approval for gas appliances were granted on an arbitrary and capricious basis, without regard to "valid, unvarying, objective standards." Radiant said its products were not given association seals of approval, although the firm contended they were more efficient and as durable as burners of competitors who got seals.

The U. S. District Court and the U. S. Court of Appeals in Chicago dismissed the complaint on the ground that such a private treble damage suit must show public injury, in terms of "such general injury to the competitive process that the public at large suffers economic harm."

Disagreeing, the Supreme Court said Radiant burners merely had to allege that it was damaged by a conspiracy.

It said the allegations made by Radiant Burners in its complaint in the U. S. District Court in Chicago were sufficient for the case to go to trial. It returned the case to that court for trial.

Radiant's suit also named as defendants Peoples Gas Light and Coke Co., Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, Texas-Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Co., Sellers Engineering Co., Gas Appliances Service Inc., Autogas Corp., and Norge Sales Corp.

PSYCHIATRY DOES WONDERS FOR DOGS
BURTON, England (AP)—The condemned fowls of the Burton Hunt have come out of the dog house, reprieved through psychiatry.

The 25 hounds were sentenced to death when they got tired of hunting foxes and started killing sheep instead. The National Canine Defense League offered to convert them into harmless pets.

The league chairman, Bernard Workman, announced Monday psychiatric treatment has rid them of all their instincts to hunt sheep.

Adding these, the total cash to be spent in fiscal 1962 becomes $101.8 billion, or $1.9 billion more than this year. And the total money expected to be collected from the public becomes $103.1 billion, or $4.1 billion more than this year.

These are figures that business studies, since they furnish a better idea of how much government will withdraw from the public's pockets and just how much could be available sooner or later to business either in government orders, or in cash in the pockets of those who get salaries, or payment from the government.

One of the great weaknesses of standard American partnership bidding is that frequently each partner bids so obscurely that neither knows what the other one is aiming for. In Jacoby-Smith each partner endeavors to give a clear picture of the strength of his hand as quickly as possible and once either partner has told his story the other will take control.

South's opening club bid, North's one heart response and South's one no-trump bid would be made in any standard American system, but in Jacoby-Smith South will have given one bit of information that other systems won't have.

South will have guaranteed that his high card holding is less than 15 points.

Based on that information, North will be able to take control and simply place the hand in a safe three no-trump contract. He won't have to bother with slams because he will be counting a maximum of 31 partnership points.

Playing at three no-trump, South will win the spade opening in his own hand and try the heart finesse. East will take his queen and lead a second spade. South will clear up the heart suit and East will be in again. This time East will probably try a club. South will win and lead a diamond toward dummy's queen. Eventually, if the defense is careful, South will make his nine tricks and no more and North's wisdom in keeping away from the slam zone will be apparent.

Whichever size you go for, you'll go better in a Dodge

Some people like full-size cars. Others prefer compacts. Either way, it's OK by us. We make both. Our standard-size car is the Dodge Dart. It is priced model for model with Ford and Chevrolet. However, Dart has features its major competitors can't match: A unitized, rust-proofed body.

Torsion-bar front suspension. And a new device called an alternator-generator that charges at idle, makes a battery last far longer than usual. There are 23 Dart models with Economy Slant Six or one of five V8 engines. Try the full-size Dodge Dart at your dependable Dodge Dealer.

Your family is healthier, more comfortable with a new automatic electric humidifier.

IT'S A FACT—in cold weather the heated air in your home contains less moisture than the air in the Sahara Desert!

And do you know that an ordinary furnace humidifier supplies only a tiny fraction of the moisture needed for health and comfort? Proper humidity means fewer colds, lower fuel bills: prevents "dry-out damage" to furniture and carpets.

The way to get plenty of moisture in room air is with an electric humidifier. There are portable or furnace attached models. See your local appliance dealer or heating contractor about an electric humidifier soon.

McNamara Riles Labor Leaders In Naming Team

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert S. McNamara is choosing his own Defense Department team—but in doing so the secretary-designate has gotten himself and the incoming administration in a jam with leaders of organized labor.

McNamara, 44, former Ford Motor Co. president, turned down a union chief reportedly recommended for a key defense post by President-elect John F. Kennedy himself.

It is understood, moreover, that McNamara, a Republican, rejected several other persons outside of labor ranks whose names were sent to him for appointment to important posts in his department.

Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, is the labor man McNamara turned down.

Keenan, who had built up a World War II reputation as a successful labor trouble shooter, was tagged to become the assistant defense secretary for manpower.

A week ago in New York, Kennedy had to call in Keenan, who had accompanied him on his campaign, to convey the bad news.

"I told McNamara I was picking his own team and I don't fit," Keenan said.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was hopping mad. Keenan is highly regarded by his colleagues.

Meany said Keenan's name was suggested because Kennedy wanted a union official placed in a high defense post.

Last Friday morning, McNamara, having gotten wind of the ruckus he had caused, visited Meany's office and came away thinking things had been smoothed over.

They hadn't been because Meany, when asked about the situation Monday, said "McNamara's view was a gratuitous insult."

McNamara declined comment on the Keenan selection. But he did say he wanted it known that "I am not anti-labor."

STOKOWSKI WILLING

MOSCOW (AP)—American conductor Leopold Stokowski is "most willing" to participate in the joint filming of Tchaikovsky's ballet "The Nutcracker" by Soviet, French and British movie makers, the newspaper Soviet Culture reported today.

The ant has two stomachs, one for itself and the other kind of "social stomach" in which it stores food to share with other ants. Food exchange is a common practice among ants.

PRISONER FLEES HOSPITAL WEARING DISTINCTIVE GARB

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A prisoner who underwent an emergency appendectomy three days ago fled from St. Louis County Hospital in suburban Clayton Monday night clad only in a white hospital gown, shoes and a blanket.

Authorities said they had been unable to find any trace of Tom Fasnemeyer, 31, despite his distinctive garb.

Clayton police said Fasnemeyer eluded two deputies posted outside his room by climbing through a window to a solarium outside his fourth floor room, re-entering another room and departing in an unknown manner.

Fasnemeyer was being held on burglary and larceny charges and as a fugitive from Florida at the St. Louis County Jail when he suffered the appendicitis attack. His last known address was given as St. Louis.

GRAINS WEAKEN IN QUIET DEALINGS

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market slanted toward weakness today in relatively quiet dealings on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans, as expected following Monday's sharp advance, encountered profit taking but traders said it was surprisingly small. The selling was well absorbed and prices lost two cents or less than the seven or more gained in the previous session.

Traders said the resistance to pressure may be an indication that the outlook continues at least slightly bullish even from the higher levels.

Activity in the grain pits was light. Old crop wheat steadied on export buying but otherwise commercial influences were meager or lacking.

At noon, wheat was 1/4 cent a bushel higher to 1/4 lower, March $2.10%; corn 1/4-1/2 lower, March $1.11%; oats 1/2-1/4 lower, March 65 cents; rye 1/4-1/2 lower, March $1.11%; soybeans 1 1/2-1 3/4 lower, March $2.47.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent a bushel higher to 1/4 lower, March $2.11%; corn unchanged to 1/4 lower, March $1.11%; oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, March 65 1/2; rye 1/4 lower, March $1.15; and soybeans 2 1/2 higher to 1/4 lower, January $2.50-51.

Olin, a director of the Olin-Mathieson Chemical Corp. and his wife, an alumna of the school, said the gift would "fill a pressing need for improved physical education facilities." Mrs. Olin is chairman of the school's board of trustees.

Dr. Duncan Wimpress, president of the college, said plans for the center are not yet complete. It will include classrooms, faculty offices, a gymnasium, swimming pool, and equipment storage rooms.

In Laos—Pro-Western Troops Capture Rebel Base

By ROY ESSOYAN
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Pro-Western government troops pushed their way into Vang Vieng Monday and captured the strategic rebel base on the road to the royal capital of Luang Prabang after only slight resistance.

A dispatch from Associated Press cameraman Fred Waters said the town fell at 11:25 a.m. Monday after only a 30-minute battle.

Another government column was inching south from Luang Prabang, with plans for a linkup and then a turn east toward the rebel-held Plain des Jarres. But the government's prospects were seriously dimmed by reverses on the southern front, where pro-Communist forces on Friday captured Ta Vieng, one of the government's staging bases for the planned offensive against the Plain des Jarres.

The situation around Tha Thom, another government staging base, was confused. French sources said Tha Thom fell Sunday to rebels advancing from Ta Vieng. Other sources said it was still in government hands.

Waters reported rebel Capt. Kong Le had left 300 defenders in Vang Vieng and that they fell steadily back before a determined government push launched at dawn Monday. The government force was supported by rocket and machinegun fire from the Lao army's four U.S.-supplied trainer-fighter planes.

Would Return Agriculture To Free Enterprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., today offered a farm bill that he said would restore American agriculture to a free enterprise basis bolstered by compensatory payments.

Talmadge said his farm program had three purposes: to let the farmer farm, to guarantee the farmer his proportionate share of the national income, and to place American agricultural commodities back on the world markets at competitive prices.

His bill would eliminate all acreage controls and government loans and would assign each farmer a domestic production quota.

The farmer would be guaranteed the difference between the price he received for his commodities for domestic use and 100 per cent of parity.

No farmer could receive more than $12,500 in government payments annually, and payments would be prohibited to contract farmers and to those farmers whose families have total non-farm incomes of more than $9,008 annually.

SIU PURCHASES 132-ACRE ESTATE

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Southern Illinois University has acquired a 132-acre estate which will be the center of the university's new Edwardsville campus.

SIU announced that Mr. and Mrs. Leopold A. Freund accepted $155,000 for the estate, including a two-story residence, a tenant bungalow, breeding barns for thoroughbred horses and a training track for horses.

The purchase agreement is subject to court approval because a condemnation suit for the land is pending in Madison County Circuit Court.

The new campus will embrace 2,000 acres and will be financed by $25 million from the state's recently approved $195 million universities building bond issue.

Passenger Cars Bound For Chicago

heard as loud of an explosion."

There was no immediate determination of how many passengers were injured.

"We just don't know," said an IC spokesman in New Orleans. "But with that kind of stop, there must have been some injured."

Reports from Magnolia—about 100 miles north of New Orleans—said several Negro men unloading the freight were burned.

The engine of the steamliner was engulfed in flames when the bulwark gas truck exploded.

At the IC office in New Orleans, spokesmen said all train communication lines apparently were severed by either the crash or the fire.

The City of New Orleans left New Orleans at 7:10 a.m. and was due in Chicago at 11:40 p.m. (CST). IC authorities said they could not give a count on the number of passengers on the train.

John Emmerich, editor of the Enterprise Journal in nearby McComb, said most of the bodies were horribly burned.

Dr. Claude Petty, a dentist whose office is near the train yards, rushed to the scene when he heard the crash and saw Percy Nelson, a white train yard laborer, staggering down the tracks with his clothes aflame.

Petty said he pulled the burning clothes from Nelson, who appeared calm and kept asking "about the other boys."

Fire units from nearby Mississippi communities — McComb, Osyka and others—rushed to the scene, along with the volunteer fire department from Kentwood, La., just across the state line in southeast Louisiana.

Hospital corridors in Magnolia were jammed with high school students and others, offering help to the injured and offering blood to those who needed transfusions.

COP Transition Ball Fails To Pack Excitement

BY FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans held a transition ball Monday night and not much happened.

There was dancing and drinking, a few laughs and a new fight song nobody got very excited about. But the worst blow was that the top brass — especially the President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon — didn't show up at all. Not even the Republican national chairman, Thurston B. Morton.

The 900 or so energetic Republicans who did come had a fine time dancing till midnight to a jazz, 13-piece orchestra. But it wasn't what you'd call a gala affair.

Chairman Lyman Brownfield of Columbus, Ohio, put it: "It was the first time a transition ball was held and 'People wouldn't take it seriously.' Especially, it seemed, in the midst of a Democratic inaugural week.

The audience, including many young dance-minded Republicans, applauded a transition ball song that predicted "We'll be back in sixty-four."

Paper "crying towels" were distributed and a sign reading "House Rules" advised that no crying aloud was permitted. It urged: "Republicans, save your buttons."

Several congressmen were on hand and two from Ohio—William Ayres and Frank Boy—participated in a skit depicting news commentators reviewing events.

Two bars were labeled "Going Out of Business Bar" and "New Frontiers Here." They offered drinks including "grape debate-sour grapes and old crowd" plus apple Jack, pink Lady Bird, Hyannis port and old Fitzgerald on the rocks.

Name Wardens, Assistants At 4 State Prisons

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Appointment of wardens and assistant wardens at four state penal institutions was announced today by Joseph E. Ragen, new state director of the Public Safety Department.

Ragen, who vacated the warden post at Joliet-Stateville to become director, names as his successor Frank J. Pate, who has been serving as assistant there the last six years.

Other appointments included: Joseph C. Vitek, 28, of Chicago, warden at Pontiac Prison.

Clayton King, 50, of Iroquois, warden at Vandalia State Penal Farm.

Homer Drinn, 43, of Bloomington, assistant warden at Joliet.

Paul G. Burris, 56, of Grantburg, assistant warden at Stateville.

Haskell D. Alvey, 36, of Harrisburg, assistant warden at Pontiac.

Ragen said all of the appointees are career men in the penal service.

Tappings Cease In Topped Tower

directly over the tower's position. The station, not unlike a ship, had two enclosed decks, containing recreation hall, gymnasium, swimming pool, dining areas and cabins for personnel.

The 4,300-ton, 67-foot tower had rested on its tripod sunk into the ocean bottom about 180 feet beneath the surface.

Failure to evacuate personnel from the tower before the collapse apparently was due to a decision of the tower commander, Capt. Gordon T. Phelan, 34, of Los Angeles.

Unofficial reports were that Phelan had wanted the men removed as the wind and seas rose on

Justices Of Peace Districts Outlined; Salary Not Decided

Morgan county's judicial system will be revamped under a new law limiting the number of Justices of the Peace and Constables, and providing for the creation of districts in which these officials serve.

The Morgan County Board of Commissioners passed a resolution Monday afternoon dividing the county into three districts, setting up boundaries of these districts. The boundaries conform as nearly as possible with the present precincts.

Under the new law each district will be served by one Justice of the Peace and one Constable. The county now has nine Justices of the Peace, three being located in Jacksonville.

After the Justices of the Peace are elected next November, they will no longer perform services on a fee basis, but will draw salaries to be fixed by the County Board. Constables will remain on a fee basis.

State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan and Chairman Byron Smith of the County Board said Tuesday the salary of the three Justices has not yet been established in Morgan county. Under the new law salaries may range from $500 minimum to $12,000 annually.

Members of the Morgan County Board have made an exhaustive study of the volume of business done by the Justices of the Peace, and the amount of fees collected, to guide them in eventually fixing the salary.

Major Parties Will Caucuses

County officials said the new law provides that Republican and Democratic candidates can be nominated by party caucuses in August. The primary process is available to independent candidates, next Monday being the last day upon which independent candidates may file. Should two or more independent candidates file in the same district, a primary election would be necessary.

Establishment of three Justices of the Peace districts in the county does not affect the Police Magistrate.

Labor - Management Meet Averts Strike Of Bakery Drivers

Fresh bread as usual is the order of the day for all stores served by bakery drivers originating in Jacksonville. A strike vote affecting some 30 routes and three bakeries in Jacksonville was abandoned when Teamster Local 916 voted 26 to 0 in favor of a compromise proposal.

The labor-management proposal highlighted negotiations since September when an National Labor Relations Board election named the Springfield Teamsters local as bargaining agents for the local bread truck drivers.

A original company proposal calling for a 5-year contract was compressed into a 3-year period with the same benefits, including health and welfare benefits for employee and family plus a pension plan.

A strike vote was taken one week ago but held off until one member of the management negotiations team could return from vacation. Both management and union officials held sessions on Sunday afternoon and Monday evening. The deciding vote was taken a few minutes before 11 o'clock Monday night.

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—The path to safety from the Congo's Kivu province is a long 20 miles, says Mrs. Marie Bothwell, wife of a missionary.

Mrs. Bothwell escaped last week from Kivu province which has fallen to supporters of former Congo premier Patrice Lumumba.

Her husband, Dr. R. H. Bothwell, remained at his mission 20 miles from Belgian-controlled Ruanda.

Miss Hazel Bothwell, 1011 Edgemoor Road, is a sister of Dr. Robert H. Bothwell, a native of Glen Ellyn, Ill. She talked with her sister-in-law in Rockford by phone Monday night and learned contact had been made with Dr. Bothwell in the Kivu Province by short wave radio. It is still uncertain if Dr. Bothwell will be allowed to remain in the Congo.

The Baptist missionary and his family have been stationed in the Congo for 11 years. Dr. Bothwell, a former electrical engineer, does scripture translating into the Swahili dialect, spoken by the natives. His wife is a former teacher.

"We had many fearful times when soldiers came by the mission," she said. "We were not bothered personally, but atrocities were committed all around us." She and her 4-year-old son, David, and her husband were threatened with guns Christmas Day at the conclusion of services in a Kivu prison.

"Just as he was finishing," she said, "local officials pointed guns at him and told him to get out. They were real tough."

Kivu officials refused to let them leave the province, she said. But "labeled agency personnel said 'they had a secret way out. They warned us it would be dangerous.'"

"We went to U.N. headquarters on Lake Kivu and took a private launch across the bay to Ruanda. The pilot of the launch kept ducking his head and peering at the shoreline to see if he could spot soldiers. That didn't help calm us."

Three of her children—Mary, 15, Paul, 12, and Lois, 10—arrived from Africa Friday and entered Rockford schools Monday.

An older daughter, Esther, 17, has been living in Rockford for two years.

6th Grader Writes To White House; Gets Reply

Bill Freeman, sixth grade student at North Jacksonville Elementary school, is the proud possessor of a letter from the social secretary of Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower.

Not too many weeks ago James Buckley, teacher at North Jacksonville School assigned pupils to write a letter for their language class. Bill decided to write to the president's wife, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

The brief letter written by the young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman, Jacksonville route one, is as follows:

Dear Mrs. Eisenhower:
My sixth grade class was assigned to write a letter in language to some person. So I chose you. My teacher's name is Mr. James Buckley. There are twenty nine students in our class. Since this being your last year in the White House, I suppose it will take a lot of worries off your mind. I imagine you and Mr. Eisenhower will be moving to farm in Gettysburg. I also live on a farm and enjoy it very much.

Lots of luck in the future,
Sincerely,
/s/ Bill Freeman

Within a short time the young Morgan county student received an answer to his letter to the White House, sent by Mrs. Eisenhower's secretary, Mary Jane McCaffree.

Dear Bill,
How much the First Lady enjoyed hearing from you! She has asked me to thank you for your letter and for taking the time to write to her.

We were very pleased to hear that you, too, like living on a farm. Country life is wonderful, and a place where you can view nature at her best.

With very best wishes to you, now and always.

Sincerely,
/s/ M. J. McCaffree
